

The Value of an International Research Experience and How it Can Change Your Approach to Research

Heather Huntsman, CMMB IGERT Trainee

Heather is a PhD student in the Department of Kinesiology and Community Health at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Summer Project Title: The development of 2D soft gels and their effect on the apparent stress cells experience during cyclic strain

Samantha Knoll, CMMB IGERT Trainee

Samantha is a PhD student in the Department of Mechanical Science and Engineering at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Summer Project Title: Spreading Science: Investigation of the Effect of Substrate Stiffness on Primary Neurofibromatosis Type 2 Cells

Date: Tuesday, October 9, 2012
Time: 12:00 – 1:00 p.m. CST (10:00 – 11:00 a.m. PST)
Location: 1000 MNTL at Illinois (SSM 150 at UC Merced)

Abstract:

Heather and Samantha spent part of Summer 2012 at the Max Planck Institute in Germany. Join us on Tuesday, October 9th to hear about the value of international collaborative experiences for all graduate students.
